CALL ME THE BREEZE

I KEEP BLOWING DOWN THE ROAD
THEY CALL ME THE BREEZE
I KEEP BLOWING DOWN THE ROAD

I AIN'T GOT ME NOBODY
I AIN'T CARRYING ME NO LOAD

AIN'T NO CHANGE IN THE WEATHER
AIN'T NO CHANGE IN ME
NO CHANGE IN ME

I AIN'T HIDING FROM NOBODY
AIN'T NOBODY HIDING FROM ME

I GOT THAT GREEN LIGHT, BABE
I GOT TO KEEP MOVING ON
I GOT THAT GREEN LIGHT, BABE
I GOT TO KEEP MOVING ON

I MIGHT GO OUT TO CALIFORNIA
MIGHT GO DOWN TO GEORGIA

- J. J. CALE 1973

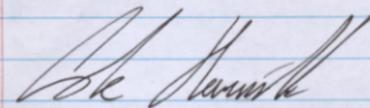

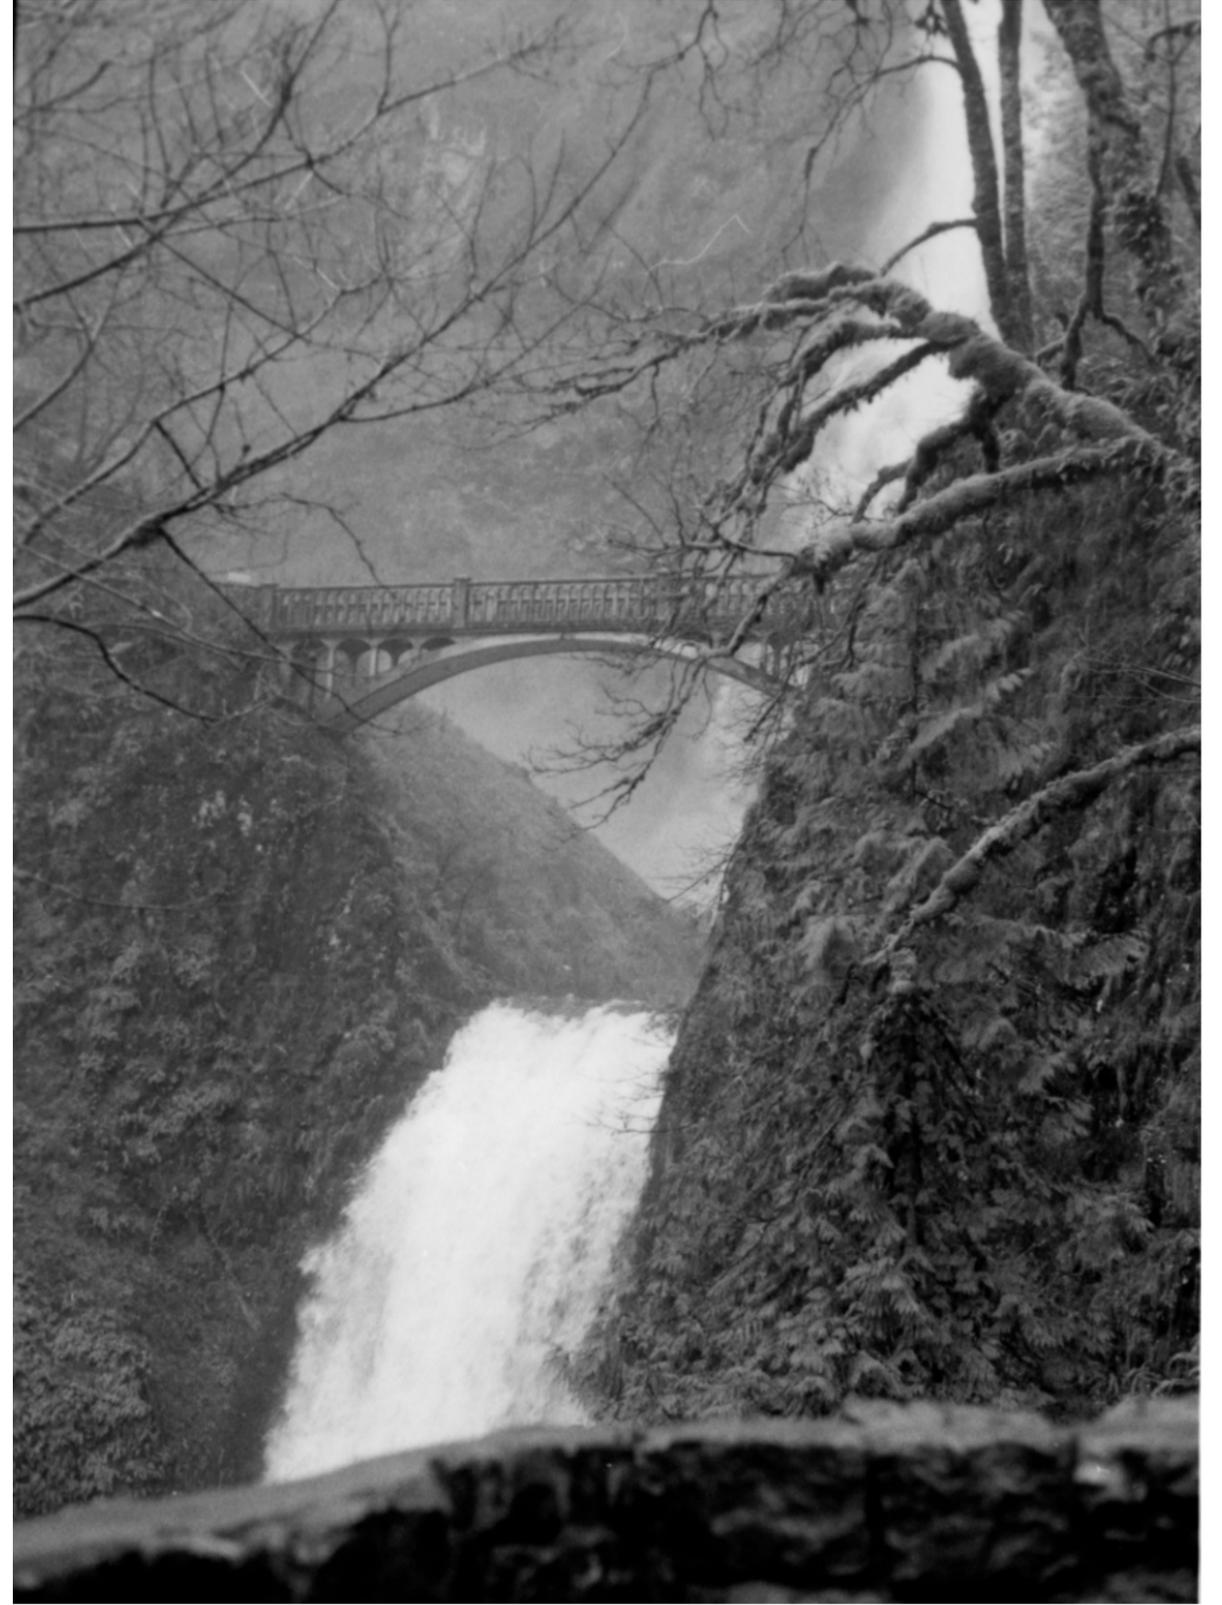

As a child, I have always admired the highway man. Rambling from town to town, creating as many relationships as he burns. I relate and admire both the pain and pleasure in their lifestyle. I have found a lot of peace over this past year traveling the highways of the United States and various other countries. The white and yellow lines speeding by often bring a meditation into my often cluttered mind. Each highway man understands the gift of solitude and companionship. This is a testament to each, for we are forever alone in each of our minds, but we each crave intimacy and friendship.

This book is dedicated to highway men and women. To travelers, vagabonds, explorers of both reality and spirituality. Each of our journeys truly never stops and I cannotathom a life of complacency and normalcy. Too often, people do not explore the freedom that each of us are born with. Allowing the anxiety that follows with change to control their lives. I feel the same anxiety very deeply. A challenge in each of our lives is to conquer change and continue learning. Before committing myself to adulthood, I plan to adventure out of my comfort zone and create a life worth living for myself and everyone who experiences my energy.

This project spans over a year of work and technical progression. Twenty-five rolls of film through four very different cameras, over 800 exposures in all and 100 are exhibited. All are photographed, developed, and edited by me. My style is refined throughout this book and I become more focused with each day. This is my first dip into my artistic vision and I intend to achieve greatness.
